

PREMIER POINTS OUT DEBTOR RELIEF

THE WEATHER

CANADIAN GOVERNMENT FORECAST
Today and Wednesday—Cooler, probable snow.
Sun rises Wednesday 7:36. Sets 4:59.
Light vehicles by 5:24.
Edmonton temperatures—3 p.m. yesterday 8 a.m. today: Minimum 32 above; Maximum 33 above.

FIFTY-EIGHTH YEAR, VOL. LVIII, NO. 258

If You Don't Get The Bulletin, You Don't Get All The News—Nor The Pictures!

Edmonton Bulletin

AN INDEPENDENT NEWSPAPER IN PUBLIC SERVICE

EDMONTON, ALBERTA—TUESDAY, NOVEMBER 1, 1938

WHEAT CLOSE

TUESDAY

WINNIPEG CLOSE—Nov. 37½; Dec. 37½; May 80.

Single Copy, Five Cents

British Clean Up Arab Hideout—Jaffa Seized During Visit At Dawn

Two Thousand Picked Troops Surround Headquarters City—Raid Part of Rebellion Drive By Military

By JAMES A. MILLS
Associated Press Staff

JAFFA, Palestine, Nov. 1.—British troops have seized control of Jaffa, ancient Mediterranean port of 50,000 population, and cleared it of Arab rebels who had made it a headquarters in their fight against the mandate administration.

Down had just begun Monday to illuminate the city, largely purely Arab town in Palestine, when 2,000 picked troops from sarafand and Jerusalem made a surprise raid from all sides.

The raid was part of a relentless drive which the military command is making against rebel strongholds in Palestine, and came for the early introduction of new reforms based on the report of a royal commission which will be announced in a few days at London.

LARGE CITIES CLEARED

Large cities previously cleared of rebels are Jerusalem, Beirin and Gaza.

Jaffa, a town which Richard the Lion-Hearted, captured from the forces of the 12th century con-

Continued on Page 3, Col. 2

3 B.C. WOMEN AWARDED RICH OIL ROYALTIES

Supreme Court Orders Turner Valley Pay $90 Daily

YANKEE, Nov. 1.—Mrs. A. M. Manson, widow, awarded royalties of $90 a day from a Turner Valley oil well to the wife of her late husband, a retired oil company manager, and to her son, Robert Barker, who died two years ago.

The woman, a New Westminster, B.C., telephone operator at Courtenay, on the east coast of Vancouver Island, and a widow of a former missionary at Courtenay.

The three women by Barker's will received a share of the estate, capital value of which at his death was $80,000.

Early last year the estate, three-quarter interest in the oil well, Mrs. Justice Manson in supreme court held: the $12,000 realized from the sale was to be divided equally and shared among the women. The royalty payment of $90 daily still being paid to the estate, was decided, and awarded it to the women, too.

PREMIER ASKS ANGLO-ITALIAN PACT APPROVAL

Chamberlain Announces New Drive To Put Defences on Sound Basis

By J. F. SANDERSON
Canadian Press Staff Writer

EDMONTON, Nov. 1.—Premier Chamberlain today asked the House of Commons to approve an Anglo-Italian pact. The Italian accord of April 16, announced a new drive to put the British Empire on a sound basis, and rededicated his government to a general European alliance.

Taking part in a general debate on foreign affairs, the prime minister said his ultimate object was the limitation of arms by bilateral agreements.

Mr. Chamberlain said there is no necessary reason why democratic totalitarian states to be arranged against each other. It was his firm conviction that a basis for co-operation

Continued on Page 2, Col. 7

OIL OPERATORS WANT WORD IN NEW GAS ACT

CALGARY, Nov. 1.—Independent oil operators in the Turner Valley field, protesting gas conservation orders, want to be consulted in the drafting of a "new Alberta Petroleum and Natural Gas Act," according to a statement issued here today.

The government will be urged to give operators an opportunity of considering proposed changes in the present act before the Alberta legislature meets in special session next week.

In the statement issued by W. C. Fisher, managing director of Model Oil Limited, following a meeting of oil operators here yesterday night, protest was made against the "high-handed manner in which the gas conservation board is trying to impose its will on the oil operators," and urged the board to enforce the Conservation Act.

A special committee has been appointed by the board to study the Turner Valley oil situation to be presented at a meeting shortly to which oil operators, oil companies, oil refiners and members of the Conservation Board will be invited.

Slayer Hanged

EDMONTON, Nov. 1.—George Brain, 27, was hanged in Edmonton jail this morning for the murder of Mrs. Muriel Atkins, née a Mrs. Wimbleton, about July 14. Her body had been found in a lonely lane, beaten and battered.

Atkins, 36, was found dead in a lane near the Borden Park golf course, in the Borden Park area of Edmonton, on July 14. Her body was found in a lonely lane, beaten and battered.

He was hanged on a line "long, long, long, long," it was said.

The British Columbia coroner, struck by a 20-year-old history of surgical air raids on Britain, was wounded by a bullet in his account

$200,000 Gems Found

MRS. E. N. TOWNSEND

NEW YORK, Nov. 1.—That $200,000 in jewelry left in the care of George Fleming, her recently hired chauffeur, had vanished from her safe, Mrs. Edward N. Townsend, 86, widow of Senator George W. Norris, was reported to New York police in the home of a friend where he had gone to have his jewels appraised. Most of the gems were recovered.

TRACTOR TRAIN WILL OPERATE IN NORTH AREA

Corsor-Duncan Transportation Co. To Provide New Service

Further plans to take the pioneer hardships out of life at northern mining and trapping communities have been completed by Frank Corson of the Corson-Duncan Transportation Co. Ltd., who will operate a schedule of tractor trains from McMurray to Goldfields and Yellowknife and intermediate points.

There will be heated cars equipped to carry the most luxuries of domestic life from the time of the early introduction of new reforms based on the report of a royal commission which will be announced in a few days at London.

The deal was part of a relentless drive which the military command is making against rebel strongholds in Palestine, and came for the early introduction of new reforms based on the report of a royal commission which will be announced in a few days at London.

DEAL COMPLETED

Tuesday morning a deal was completed by Mr. Corson by which he purchased the equipment of J. D. Doyle in the weighting business which plied between Waterways and McMurray, and which he will now operate from his new home at Yellowknife.

The consideration paid by Corson to Doyle was $1,200, and the deal was completed by Mr. Corson, who completed the deal with Mr. Doyle. Mr. Corson was in partnership with Doyle for two years.

Mr. Corson stated Tuesday that approximately 60 sledges will be used to haul the freight over the two roads when the ice conditions permit.

Plans were being made for the opening of the freighting early in January.

He stated that it was considered necessary to make a journey from Yellowknife to Goldfields in a time of 25 to 30 days, and the journey to Yellowknife in the winter.

Tractor trains powered by Diesels will be in operation day and night, with crews working four-hour shifts and resting for 12 hours.

It is expected that the new service will be completed by Jan. 15, and will be in operation within a few days.

Later today H. Alan MacLean, solicitor from the Attorney-General's department, will meet Mr. J. C. Manson, who also ordered continuation of the injunction against a government—approved application in the retail price of gasoline.

Later today H. Alan MacLean, solicitor from the Attorney-General's department, will meet Mr. J. C. Manson, who also ordered continuation of the injunction against a government—approved application in the retail price of gasoline.

Later today H. Alan MacLean, solicitor from the Attorney-General's department, will meet Mr. J. C. Manson, who also ordered continuation of the injunction against a government—approved application in the retail price of gasoline.

Later today H. Alan MacLean, solicitor from the Attorney-General's department, will meet Mr. J. C. Manson, who also ordered continuation of the injunction against a government—approved application in the retail price of gasoline.

Later today H. Alan MacLean, solicitor from the Attorney-General's department, will meet Mr. J. C. Manson, who also ordered continuation of the injunction against a government—approved application in the retail price of gasoline.

Later today H. Alan MacLean, solicitor from the Attorney-General's department, will meet Mr. J. C. Manson, who also ordered continuation of the injunction against a government—approved application in the retail price of gasoline.

Later today H. Alan MacLean, solicitor from the Attorney-General's department, will meet Mr. J. C. Manson, who also ordered continuation of the injunction against a government—approved application in the retail price of gasoline.

Later today H. Alan MacLean, solicitor from the Attorney-General's department, will meet Mr. J. C. Manson, who also ordered continuation of the injunction against a government—approved application in the retail price of gasoline.

Later today H. Alan MacLean, solicitor from the Attorney-General's department, will meet Mr. J. C. Manson, who also ordered continuation of the injunction against a government—approved application in the retail price of gasoline.

Later today H. Alan MacLean, solicitor from the Attorney-General's department, will meet Mr. J. C. Manson, who also ordered continuation of the injunction against a government—approved application in the retail price of gasoline.

Later today H. Alan MacLean, solicitor from the Attorney-General's department, will meet Mr. J. C. Manson, who also ordered continuation of the injunction against a government—approved application in the retail price of gasoline.

Later today H. Alan MacLean, solicitor from the Attorney-General's department, will meet Mr. J. C. Manson, who also ordered continuation of the injunction against a government—approved application in the retail price of gasoline.

Later today H. Alan MacLean, solicitor from the Attorney-General's department, will meet Mr. J. C. Manson, who also ordered continuation of the injunction against a government—approved application in the retail price of gasoline.

Later today H. Alan MacLean, solicitor from the Attorney-General's department, will meet Mr. J. C. Manson, who also ordered continuation of the injunction against a government—approved application in the retail price of gasoline.

Later today H. Alan MacLean, solicitor from the Attorney-General's department, will meet Mr. J. C. Manson, who also ordered continuation of the injunction against a government—approved application in the retail price of gasoline.

Later today H. Alan MacLean, solicitor from the Attorney-General's department, will meet Mr. J. C. Manson, who also ordered continuation of the injunction against a government—approved application in the retail price of gasoline.

Later today H. Alan MacLean, solicitor from the Attorney-General's department, will meet Mr. J. C. Manson, who also ordered continuation of the injunction against a government—approved application in the retail price of gasoline.

Later today H. Alan MacLean, solicitor from the Attorney-General's department, will meet Mr. J. C. Manson, who also ordered continuation of the injunction against a government—approved application in the retail price of gasoline.

Later today H. Alan MacLean, solicitor from the Attorney-General's department, will meet Mr. J. C. Manson, who also ordered continuation of the injunction against a government—approved application in the retail price of gasoline.

Later today H. Alan MacLean, solicitor from the Attorney-General's department, will meet Mr. J. C. Manson, who also ordered continuation of the injunction against a government—approved application in the retail price of gasoline.

Later today H. Alan MacLean, solicitor from the Attorney-General's department, will meet Mr. J. C. Manson, who also ordered continuation of the injunction against a government—approved application in the retail price of gasoline.

Later today H. Alan MacLean, solicitor from the Attorney-General's department, will meet Mr. J. C. Manson, who also ordered continuation of the injunction against a government—approved application in the retail price of gasoline.

Later today H. Alan MacLean, solicitor from the Attorney-General's department, will meet Mr. J. C. Manson, who also ordered continuation of the injunction against a government—approved application in the retail price of gasoline.

Later today H. Alan MacLean, solicitor from the Attorney-General's department, will meet Mr. J. C. Manson, who also ordered continuation of the injunction against a government—approved application in the retail price of gasoline.

Later today H. Alan MacLean, solicitor from the Attorney-General's department, will meet Mr. J. C. Manson, who also ordered continuation of the injunction against a government—approved application in the retail price of gasoline.

Later today H. Alan MacLean, solicitor from the Attorney-General's department, will meet Mr. J. C. Manson, who also ordered continuation of the injunction against a government—approved application in the retail price of gasoline.

Later today H. Alan MacLean, solicitor from the Attorney-General's department, will meet Mr. J. C. Manson, who also ordered continuation of the injunction against a government—approved application in the retail price of gasoline.

Later today H. Alan MacLean, solicitor from the Attorney-General's department, will meet Mr. J. C. Manson, who also ordered continuation of the injunction against a government—approved application in the retail price of gasoline.

Later today H. Alan MacLean, solicitor from the Attorney-General's department, will meet Mr. J. C. Manson, who also ordered continuation of the injunction against a government—approved application in the retail price of gasoline.

Later today H. Alan MacLean, solicitor from the Attorney-General's department, will meet Mr. J. C. Manson, who also ordered continuation of the injunction against a government—approved application in the retail price of gasoline.

Later today H. Alan MacLean, solicitor from the Attorney-General's department, will meet Mr. J. C. Manson, who also ordered continuation of the injunction against a government—approved application in the retail price of gasoline.

Later today H. Alan MacLean, solicitor from the Attorney-General's department, will meet Mr. J. C. Manson, who also ordered continuation of the injunction against a government—approved application in the retail price of gasoline.

Later today H. Alan MacLean, solicitor from the Attorney-General's department, will meet Mr. J. C. Manson, who also ordered continuation of the injunction against a government—approved application in the retail price of gasoline.

Later today H. Alan MacLean, solicitor from the Attorney-General's department, will meet Mr. J. C. Manson, who also ordered continuation of the injunction against a government—approved application in the retail price of gasoline.

Later today H. Alan MacLean, solicitor from the Attorney-General's department, will meet Mr. J. C. Manson, who also ordered continuation of the injunction against a government—approved application in the retail price of gasoline.

Later today H. Alan MacLean, solicitor from the Attorney-General's department, will meet Mr. J. C. Manson, who also ordered continuation of the injunction against a government—approved application in the retail price of gasoline.

Later today H. Alan MacLean, solicitor from the Attorney-General's department, will meet Mr. J. C. Manson, who also ordered continuation of the injunction against a government—approved application in the retail price of gasoline.

Later today H. Alan MacLean, solicitor from the Attorney-General's department, will meet Mr. J. C. Manson, who also ordered continuation of the injunction against a government—approved application in the retail price of gasoline.

Later today H. Alan MacLean, solicitor from the Attorney-General's department, will meet Mr. J. C. Manson, who also ordered continuation of the injunction against a government—approved application in the retail price of gasoline.

Later today H. Alan MacLean, solicitor from the Attorney-General's department, will meet Mr. J. C. Manson, who also ordered continuation of the injunction against a government—approved application in the retail price of gasoline.

Later today H. Alan MacLean, solicitor from the Attorney-General's department, will meet Mr. J. C. Manson, who also ordered continuation of the injunction against a government—approved application in the retail price of gasoline.

Later today H. Alan MacLean, solicitor from the Attorney-General's department, will meet Mr. J. C. Manson, who also ordered continuation of the injunction against a government—approved application in the retail price of gasoline.

Later today H. Alan MacLean, solicitor from the Attorney-General's department, will meet Mr. J. C. Manson, who also ordered continuation of the injunction against a government—approved application in the retail price of gasoline.

Later today H. Alan MacLean, solicitor from the Attorney-General's department, will meet Mr. J. C. Manson, who also ordered continuation of the injunction against a government—approved application in the retail price of gasoline.

Later today H. Alan MacLean, solicitor from the Attorney-General's department, will meet Mr. J. C. Manson, who also ordered continuation of the injunction against a government—approved application in the retail price of gasoline.

Later today H. Alan MacLean, solicitor from the Attorney-General's department, will meet Mr. J. C. Manson, who also ordered continuation of the injunction against a government—approved application in the retail price of gasoline.

Later today H. Alan MacLean, solicitor from the Attorney-General's department, will meet Mr. J. C. Manson, who also ordered continuation of the injunction against a government—approved application in the retail price of gasoline.

Later today H. Alan MacLean, solicitor from the Attorney-General's department, will meet Mr. J. C. Manson, who also ordered continuation of the injunction against a government—approved application in the retail price of gasoline.

Later today H. Alan MacLean, solicitor from the Attorney-General's department, will meet Mr. J. C. Manson, who also ordered continuation of the injunction against a government—approved application in the retail price of gasoline.

Later today H. Alan MacLean, solicitor from the Attorney-General's department, will meet Mr. J. C. Manson, who also ordered continuation of the injunction against a government—approved application in the retail price of gasoline.

Later today H. Alan MacLean, solicitor from the Attorney-General's department, will meet Mr. J. C. Manson, who also ordered continuation of the injunction against a government—approved application in the retail price of gasoline.

Later today H. Alan MacLean, solicitor from the Attorney-General's department, will meet Mr. J. C. Manson, who also ordered continuation of the injunction against a government—approved application in the retail price of gasoline.

Later today H. Alan MacLean, solicitor from the Attorney-General's department, will meet Mr. J. C. Manson, who also ordered continuation of the injunction against a government—approved application in the retail price of gasoline.

Later today H. Alan MacLean, solicitor from the Attorney-General's department, will meet Mr. J. C. Manson, who also ordered continuation of the injunction against a government—approved application in the retail price of gasoline.

Later today H. Alan MacLean, solicitor from the Attorney-General's department, will meet Mr. J. C. Manson, who also ordered continuation of the injunction against a government—approved application in the retail price of gasoline.

Later today H. Alan MacLean, solicitor from the Attorney-General's department, will meet Mr. J. C. Manson, who also ordered continuation of the injunction against a government—approved application in the retail price of gasoline.

Later today H. Alan MacLean, solicitor from the Attorney-General's department, will meet Mr. J. C. Manson, who also ordered continuation of the injunction against a government—approved application in the retail price of gasoline.

Later today H. Alan MacLean, solicitor from the Attorney-General's department, will meet Mr. J. C. Manson, who also ordered continuation of the injunction against a government—approved application in the retail price of gasoline.

Later today H. Alan MacLean, solicitor from the Attorney-General's department, will meet Mr. J. C. Manson, who also ordered continuation of the injunction against a government—approved application in the retail price of gasoline.

Later today H. Alan MacLean, solicitor from the Attorney-General's department, will meet Mr. J. C. Manson, who also ordered continuation of the injunction against a government—approved application in the retail price of gasoline.

Later today H. Alan MacLean, solicitor from the Attorney-General's department, will meet Mr. J. C. Manson, who also ordered continuation of the injunction against a government—approved application in the retail price of gasoline.

Later today H. Alan MacLean, solicitor from the Attorney-General's department, will meet Mr. J. C. Manson, who also ordered continuation of the injunction against a government—approved application in the retail price of gasoline.

Later today H. Alan MacLean, solicitor from the Attorney-General's department, will meet Mr. J. C. Manson, who also ordered continuation of the injunction against a government—approved application in the retail price of gasoline.

Later today H. Alan MacLean, solicitor from the Attorney-General's department, will meet Mr. J. C. Manson, who also ordered continuation of the injunction against a government—approved application in the retail price of gasoline.

Later today H. Alan MacLean, solicitor from the Attorney-General's department, will meet Mr. J. C. Manson, who also ordered continuation of the injunction against a government—approved application in the retail price of gasoline.

Later today H. Alan MacLean, solicitor from the Attorney-General's department, will meet Mr. J. C. Manson, who also ordered continuation of the injunction against a government—approved application in the retail price of gasoline.

Later today H. Alan MacLean, solicitor from the Attorney-General's department, will meet Mr. J. C. Manson, who also ordered continuation of the injunction against a government—approved application in the retail price of gasoline.

Later today H. Alan MacLean, solicitor from the Attorney-General's department, will meet Mr. J. C. Manson, who also ordered continuation of the injunction against a government—approved application in the retail price of gasoline.

Later today H. Alan MacLean, solicitor from the Attorney-General's department, will meet Mr. J. C. Manson, who also ordered continuation of the injunction against a government—approved application in the retail price of gasoline.

Later today H. Alan MacLean, solicitor from the Attorney-General's department, will meet Mr. J. C. Manson, who also ordered continuation of the injunction against a government—approved application in the retail price of gasoline.

Later today H. Alan MacLean, solicitor from the Attorney-General's department, will meet Mr. J. C. Manson, who also ordered continuation of the injunction against a government—approved application in the retail price of gasoline.

Later today H. Alan MacLean, solicitor from the Attorney-General's department, will meet Mr. J. C. Manson, who also ordered continuation of the injunction against a government—approved application in the retail price of gasoline.

Later today H. Alan MacLean, solicitor from the Attorney-General's department, will meet Mr. J. C. Manson, who also ordered continuation of the injunction against a government—approved application in the retail price of gasoline.

Later today H. Alan MacLean, solicitor from the Attorney-General's department, will meet Mr. J. C. Manson, who also ordered continuation of the injunction against a government—approved application in the retail price of gasoline.

Later today H. Alan MacLean, solicitor from the Attorney-General's department, will meet Mr. J. C. Manson, who also ordered continuation of the injunction against a government—approved application in the retail price of gasoline.

Later today H. Alan MacLean, solicitor from the Attorney-General's department, will meet Mr. J. C. Manson, who also ordered continuation of the injunction against a government—approved application in the retail price of gasoline.

Later today H. Alan MacLean, solicitor from the Attorney-General's department, will meet Mr. J. C. Manson, who also ordered continuation of the injunction against a government—approved application in the retail price of gasoline.

Later today H. Alan MacLean, solicitor from the Attorney-General's department, will meet Mr. J. C. Manson, who also ordered continuation of the injunction against a government—approved application in the retail price of gasoline.

Later today H. Alan MacLean, solicitor from the Attorney-General's department, will meet Mr. J. C. Manson, who also ordered continuation of the injunction against a government—approved application in the retail price of gasoline.

Later today H. Alan MacLean, solicitor from the Attorney-General's department, will meet Mr. J. C. Manson, who also ordered continuation of the injunction against a government—approved application in the retail price of gasoline.

Later today H. Alan MacLean, solicitor from the Attorney-General's department, will meet Mr. J. C. Manson, who also ordered continuation of the injunction against a government—approved application in the retail price of gasoline.

Later today H. Alan MacLean, solicitor from the Attorney-General's department, will meet Mr. J. C. Manson, who also ordered continuation of the injunction against a government—approved application in the retail price of gasoline.

Later today H. Alan MacLean, solicitor from the Attorney-General's department, will meet Mr. J. C. Manson, who also ordered continuation of the injunction against a government—approved application in the retail price of gasoline.

Later today H. Alan MacLean, solicitor from the Attorney-General's department, will meet Mr. J. C. Manson, who also ordered continuation of the injunction against a government—approved application in the retail price of gasoline.

Later today H. Alan MacLean, solicitor from the Attorney-General's department, will meet Mr. J. C. Manson, who also ordered continuation of the injunction against a government—approved application in the retail price of gasoline.

Later today H. Alan MacLean, solicitor from the Attorney-General's department, will meet Mr. J. C. Manson, who also ordered continuation of the injunction against a government—approved application in the retail price of gasoline.

Later today H. Alan MacLean, solicitor from the Attorney-General's department, will meet Mr. J. C. Manson, who also ordered continuation of the injunction against a government—approved application in the retail price of gasoline.

Later today H. Alan MacLean, solicitor from the Attorney-General's department, will meet Mr. J. C. Manson, who also ordered continuation of the injunction against a government—approved application in the retail price of gasoline.

Later today H. Alan MacLean, solicitor from the Attorney-General's department, will meet Mr. J. C. Manson, who also ordered continuation of the injunction against a government—approved application in the retail price of gasoline.

Later today H. Alan MacLean, solicitor from the Attorney-General's department, will meet Mr. J. C. Manson, who also ordered continuation of the injunction against a government—approved application in the retail price of gasoline.

Later today H. Alan MacLean, solicitor from the Attorney-General's department, will meet Mr. J. C. Manson, who also ordered continuation of the injunction against a government—approved application in the retail price of gasoline.

Later today H. Alan MacLean, solicitor from the Attorney-General's department, will meet Mr. J. C. Manson, who also ordered continuation of the injunction against a government—approved application in the retail price of gasoline.

Later today H. Alan MacLean, solicitor from the Attorney-General's department, will meet Mr. J. C. Manson, who also ordered continuation of the injunction against a government—approved application in the retail price of gasoline.

Later today H. Alan MacLean, solicitor from the Attorney-General's department, will meet Mr. J. C. Manson, who also ordered continuation of the injunction against a government—approved application in the retail price of gasoline.

Later today H. Alan MacLean, solicitor from the Attorney-General's department, will meet Mr. J. C. Manson, who also ordered continuation of the injunction against a government—approved application in the retail price of gasoline.

Later today H. Alan MacLean, solicitor from the Attorney-General's department, will meet Mr. J. C. Manson, who also ordered continuation of the injunction against a government—approved application in the retail price of gasoline.

Later today H. Alan MacLean, solicitor from the Attorney-General's department, will meet Mr. J. C. Manson, who also ordered continuation of the injunction against a government—approved application in the retail price of gasoline.

Later today H. Alan MacLean, solicitor from the Attorney-General's department, will meet Mr. J. C. Manson, who also ordered continuation of the injunction against a government—approved application in the retail price of gasoline.

Later today H. Alan MacLean, solicitor from the Attorney-General's department, will meet Mr. J. C. Manson, who also ordered continuation of the injunction against a government—approved application in the retail price of gasoline.

Later today H. Alan MacLean, solicitor from the Attorney-General's department, will meet Mr. J. C. Manson, who also ordered continuation of the injunction against a government—approved application in the retail price of gasoline.

Later today H. Alan MacLean, solicitor

Ottawa and Washington Say Canada-U.S. Trade Pact Virtually Ready

BOTH NATIONS SET TO SIGN NEW TREATY

U.S. Asserts No Obstacles Remain To Block Agreement

OTTAWA, Nov. 1.—The Canadian-U.S. negotiations in Washington for a new trade agreement are still in progress. It was officially stated here last night. This was the only comment government spokesman was willing to make on the situation in Ottawa concerning the trade parity.

On Tuesday indicated the negotiations had been completed and only awaited formal signature. Another was that conversations had been held and the negotiations were centered in the British-United States negotiations which are being conducted in Washington at the same time. The two agreements are regarded as complementary and it was reported the Canadian-U.S. negotiations would stand still until the other negotiations made more progress.

Official sources were loath to doubt any instrumentality of difficulty had been encountered in the British-United States conversations but stated they had no direct information on the matter.

U.S. Satisfied With Negotiations

WASHINGTON, Nov. 1.—Negotiations of new trade between the United States and Canada has virtually been completed and, it was last night, announced that the two agreements are regarded as complementary and it was reported the Canadian-U.S. negotiations would stand still until the other negotiations made more progress.

Official sources were loath to doubt any instrumentality of difficulty had been encountered in the British-United States conversations but stated they had no direct information on the matter.

Nazi Treatment Of Minorities Resented By African Officials

JOHANNESBURG, South Africa, Nov. 1.—Two prominent African officials, Dr. H. M. Holtz, member of the cabinet, and Leslie Blackwell, member of parliament, Monday issued statements opposing return of African to Germany.

Mr. Holtz said: "It is not only because Germany is not a member of the League of Nations that we oppose the return of the Afrikaners. It is because of the manner in which Germany is treating their minorities, religious and political, which are being persecuted with the connivance of the League of Nations."

MUST BE FIRME

"We must put our foot down and say 'No, never,'" said Mr. Blackwell. "We oppose the return of Africa not for economic reason but because of the strategic importance of the country."

As a repudiation, we would not be strong enough to hold South Africa in the League of Nations. We do not want to return to Germany through our members, and allegiance to the British Commonwealth of Nations. We do not want to be a part of the Nazi regime."

Mr. Holtz was cross-examined briefly by Lieut.-Col. George Drew of the South African Press Corps.

MacLean's magazine quoted him as saying: "Under John Ingol Co., Limited and the national defence department, we have 1,500 Bren guns, after he had declared he had no financial interests directly or indirectly in the contract or the court is told.

OTTAWA, Nov. 1.—Politics do not enhance a lawyer's business, according to Hugh Plaxton, Liberal MP, for Toronto-Trinity who Monday told Mr. Justice H. Davis, "You can't expect me to bring the Bren gun contract, that he kept no books because his business did not pay."

Mr. Plaxton was cross-examined briefly by Lieut.-Col. George Drew of the South African Press Corps.

MacLean's magazine quoted him as saying: "Under John Ingol Co., Limited and the national defence department, we have 1,500 Bren guns, after he had declared he had no financial interests directly or indirectly in the contract or the court is told."

4,870 Quota Of Jews Allowed To Enter Palestine

Jerusalem, Nov. 1.—British immigration authorities explained Sunday the quota of Jews who will be permitted to enter Palestine this year is six times as large as the same figure last year.

As many as 10,000 Jews, including the real number of Jews who will be admitted, would be admitted.

The figure was set at 4,870—2,020

"in capitals," 40 craftsmen, less than 1,000 in the Habimah, 1,150 laborers, 1,450 dependents, 1,000 wives and children and 10 orphans. An amount of these probably will be needs of families—wives and children.

Young and his wife had fasted to get 4,000,000 signatures, but the quota was set at 2,020.

A couple threatened to starve to death and leave Pan without an heir.

The figure was set at 4,870—2,020

"in capitals," 40 craftsmen, less than 1,000 in the Habimah, 1,150 laborers, 1,450 dependents, 1,000 wives and children and 10 orphans. An amount of these probably will be needs of families—wives and children.

Young and his wife had fasted to get 4,000,000 signatures, but the quota was set at 2,020.

A couple threatened to starve to death and leave Pan without an heir.

The figure was set at 4,870—2,020

"in capitals," 40 craftsmen, less than 1,000 in the Habimah, 1,150 laborers, 1,450 dependents, 1,000 wives and children and 10 orphans. An amount of these probably will be needs of families—wives and children.

Young and his wife had fasted to get 4,000,000 signatures, but the quota was set at 2,020.

A couple threatened to starve to death and leave Pan without an heir.

The figure was set at 4,870—2,020

"in capitals," 40 craftsmen, less than 1,000 in the Habimah, 1,150 laborers, 1,450 dependents, 1,000 wives and children and 10 orphans. An amount of these probably will be needs of families—wives and children.

Young and his wife had fasted to get 4,000,000 signatures, but the quota was set at 2,020.

A couple threatened to starve to death and leave Pan without an heir.

The figure was set at 4,870—2,020

"in capitals," 40 craftsmen, less than 1,000 in the Habimah, 1,150 laborers, 1,450 dependents, 1,000 wives and children and 10 orphans. An amount of these probably will be needs of families—wives and children.

Young and his wife had fasted to get 4,000,000 signatures, but the quota was set at 2,020.

A couple threatened to starve to death and leave Pan without an heir.

The figure was set at 4,870—2,020

"in capitals," 40 craftsmen, less than 1,000 in the Habimah, 1,150 laborers, 1,450 dependents, 1,000 wives and children and 10 orphans. An amount of these probably will be needs of families—wives and children.

Young and his wife had fasted to get 4,000,000 signatures, but the quota was set at 2,020.

A couple threatened to starve to death and leave Pan without an heir.

The figure was set at 4,870—2,020

"in capitals," 40 craftsmen, less than 1,000 in the Habimah, 1,150 laborers, 1,450 dependents, 1,000 wives and children and 10 orphans. An amount of these probably will be needs of families—wives and children.

Young and his wife had fasted to get 4,000,000 signatures, but the quota was set at 2,020.

A couple threatened to starve to death and leave Pan without an heir.

The figure was set at 4,870—2,020

"in capitals," 40 craftsmen, less than 1,000 in the Habimah, 1,150 laborers, 1,450 dependents, 1,000 wives and children and 10 orphans. An amount of these probably will be needs of families—wives and children.

Young and his wife had fasted to get 4,000,000 signatures, but the quota was set at 2,020.

A couple threatened to starve to death and leave Pan without an heir.

The figure was set at 4,870—2,020

"in capitals," 40 craftsmen, less than 1,000 in the Habimah, 1,150 laborers, 1,450 dependents, 1,000 wives and children and 10 orphans. An amount of these probably will be needs of families—wives and children.

Young and his wife had fasted to get 4,000,000 signatures, but the quota was set at 2,020.

A couple threatened to starve to death and leave Pan without an heir.

The figure was set at 4,870—2,020

"in capitals," 40 craftsmen, less than 1,000 in the Habimah, 1,150 laborers, 1,450 dependents, 1,000 wives and children and 10 orphans. An amount of these probably will be needs of families—wives and children.

Young and his wife had fasted to get 4,000,000 signatures, but the quota was set at 2,020.

A couple threatened to starve to death and leave Pan without an heir.

The figure was set at 4,870—2,020

"in capitals," 40 craftsmen, less than 1,000 in the Habimah, 1,150 laborers, 1,450 dependents, 1,000 wives and children and 10 orphans. An amount of these probably will be needs of families—wives and children.

Young and his wife had fasted to get 4,000,000 signatures, but the quota was set at 2,020.

A couple threatened to starve to death and leave Pan without an heir.

The figure was set at 4,870—2,020

"in capitals," 40 craftsmen, less than 1,000 in the Habimah, 1,150 laborers, 1,450 dependents, 1,000 wives and children and 10 orphans. An amount of these probably will be needs of families—wives and children.

Young and his wife had fasted to get 4,000,000 signatures, but the quota was set at 2,020.

A couple threatened to starve to death and leave Pan without an heir.

The figure was set at 4,870—2,020

"in capitals," 40 craftsmen, less than 1,000 in the Habimah, 1,150 laborers, 1,450 dependents, 1,000 wives and children and 10 orphans. An amount of these probably will be needs of families—wives and children.

Young and his wife had fasted to get 4,000,000 signatures, but the quota was set at 2,020.

A couple threatened to starve to death and leave Pan without an heir.

The figure was set at 4,870—2,020

"in capitals," 40 craftsmen, less than 1,000 in the Habimah, 1,150 laborers, 1,450 dependents, 1,000 wives and children and 10 orphans. An amount of these probably will be needs of families—wives and children.

Young and his wife had fasted to get 4,000,000 signatures, but the quota was set at 2,020.

A couple threatened to starve to death and leave Pan without an heir.

The figure was set at 4,870—2,020

"in capitals," 40 craftsmen, less than 1,000 in the Habimah, 1,150 laborers, 1,450 dependents, 1,000 wives and children and 10 orphans. An amount of these probably will be needs of families—wives and children.

Young and his wife had fasted to get 4,000,000 signatures, but the quota was set at 2,020.

A couple threatened to starve to death and leave Pan without an heir.

The figure was set at 4,870—2,020

"in capitals," 40 craftsmen, less than 1,000 in the Habimah, 1,150 laborers, 1,450 dependents, 1,000 wives and children and 10 orphans. An amount of these probably will be needs of families—wives and children.

Young and his wife had fasted to get 4,000,000 signatures, but the quota was set at 2,020.

A couple threatened to starve to death and leave Pan without an heir.

The figure was set at 4,870—2,020

"in capitals," 40 craftsmen, less than 1,000 in the Habimah, 1,150 laborers, 1,450 dependents, 1,000 wives and children and 10 orphans. An amount of these probably will be needs of families—wives and children.

Young and his wife had fasted to get 4,000,000 signatures, but the quota was set at 2,020.

A couple threatened to starve to death and leave Pan without an heir.

The figure was set at 4,870—2,020

"in capitals," 40 craftsmen, less than 1,000 in the Habimah, 1,150 laborers, 1,450 dependents, 1,000 wives and children and 10 orphans. An amount of these probably will be needs of families—wives and children.

Young and his wife had fasted to get 4,000,000 signatures, but the quota was set at 2,020.

A couple threatened to starve to death and leave Pan without an heir.

The figure was set at 4,870—2,020

"in capitals," 40 craftsmen, less than 1,000 in the Habimah, 1,150 laborers, 1,450 dependents, 1,000 wives and children and 10 orphans. An amount of these probably will be needs of families—wives and children.

Young and his wife had fasted to get 4,000,000 signatures, but the quota was set at 2,020.

A couple threatened to starve to death and leave Pan without an heir.

The figure was set at 4,870—2,020

"in capitals," 40 craftsmen, less than 1,000 in the Habimah, 1,150 laborers, 1,450 dependents, 1,000 wives and children and 10 orphans. An amount of these probably will be needs of families—wives and children.

Young and his wife had fasted to get 4,000,000 signatures, but the quota was set at 2,020.

A couple threatened to starve to death and leave Pan without an heir.

The figure was set at 4,870—2,020

"in capitals," 40 craftsmen, less than 1,000 in the Habimah, 1,150 laborers, 1,450 dependents, 1,000 wives and children and 10 orphans. An amount of these probably will be needs of families—wives and children.

Young and his wife had fasted to get 4,000,000 signatures, but the quota was set at 2,020.

A couple threatened to starve to death and leave Pan without an heir.

The figure was set at 4,870—2,020

"in capitals," 40 craftsmen, less than 1,000 in the Habimah, 1,150 laborers, 1,450 dependents, 1,000 wives and children and 10 orphans. An amount of these probably will be needs of families—wives and children.

Young and his wife had fasted to get 4,000,000 signatures, but the quota was set at 2,020.

A couple threatened to starve to death and leave Pan without an heir.

The figure was set at 4,870—2,020

"in capitals," 40 craftsmen, less than 1,000 in the Habimah, 1,150 laborers, 1,450 dependents, 1,000 wives and children and 10 orphans. An amount of these probably will be needs of families—wives and children.

Young and his wife had fasted to get 4,000,000 signatures, but the quota was set at 2,020.

A couple threatened to starve to death and leave Pan without an heir.

The figure was set at 4,870—2,020

"in capitals," 40 craftsmen, less than 1,000 in the Habimah, 1,150 laborers, 1,450 dependents, 1,000 wives and children and 10 orphans. An amount of these probably will be needs of families—wives and children.

Young and his wife had fasted to get 4,000,000 signatures, but the quota was set at 2,020.

A couple threatened to starve to death and leave Pan without an heir.

The figure was set at 4,870—2,020

"in capitals," 40 craftsmen, less than 1,000 in the Habimah, 1,150 laborers, 1,450 dependents, 1,000 wives and children and 10 orphans. An amount of these probably will be needs of families—wives and children.

Young and his wife had fasted to get 4,000,000 signatures, but the quota was set at 2,020.

A couple threatened to starve to death and leave Pan without an heir.

The figure was set at 4,870—2,020

"in capitals," 40 craftsmen, less than 1,000 in the Habimah, 1,150 laborers, 1,450 dependents, 1,000 wives and children and 10 orphans. An amount of these probably will be needs of families—wives and children.

Young and his wife had fasted to get 4,000,000 signatures, but the quota was set at 2,020.

A couple threatened to starve to death and leave Pan without an heir.

The figure was set at 4,870—2,020

"in capitals," 40 craftsmen, less than 1,000 in the Habimah, 1,150 laborers, 1,450 dependents, 1,000 wives and children and 10 orphans. An amount of these probably will be needs of families—wives and children.

Young and his wife had fasted to get 4,000,000 signatures, but the quota was set at 2,020.

A couple threatened to starve to death and leave Pan without an heir.

The figure was set at 4,870—2,020

"in capitals," 40 craftsmen, less than 1,000 in the Habimah, 1,150 laborers, 1,450 dependents, 1,000 wives and children and 10 orphans. An amount of these probably will be needs of families—wives and children.

Young and his wife had fasted to get 4,000,000 signatures, but the quota was set at 2,020.

A couple threatened to starve to death and leave Pan without an heir.

The figure was set at 4,870—2,020

"in capitals," 40 craftsmen, less than 1,000 in the Habimah, 1,150 laborers, 1,450 dependents, 1,000 wives and children and 10 orphans. An amount of these probably will be needs of families—wives and children.

Young and his wife had fasted to get 4,000,000 signatures, but the quota was set at 2,020.

A couple threatened to starve to death and leave Pan without an heir.

The figure was set at 4,870—2,020

"in capitals," 40 craftsmen, less than 1,000 in the Habimah, 1,150 laborers, 1,450 dependents, 1,000 wives and children and 10 orphans. An amount of these probably will be needs of families—wives and children.

Young and his wife had fasted to get 4,000,000 signatures, but the quota was set at 2,020.

A couple threatened to starve to death and leave Pan without an heir.

The figure was set at 4,870—2,020

"in capitals," 40 craftsmen, less than 1,000 in the Habimah, 1,150 laborers, 1,450 dependents, 1,000 wives and children and 10 orphans. An amount of these probably will be needs of families—wives and children.

Young and his wife had fasted to get 4,000,000 signatures, but the quota was set at 2,020.

A couple threatened to starve to death and leave Pan without an heir.

The figure was set at 4,870—2,020

"in capitals," 40 craftsmen, less than 1,000 in the Habimah, 1,150 laborers, 1,450 dependents, 1,000 wives and children and 10 orphans. An amount of these probably will be needs of families—wives and children.

Young and his wife had fasted to get 4,000,000 signatures, but the quota was set at 2,020.

A couple threatened to starve to death and leave Pan without an heir.

The figure was set at 4,870—2,020

"in capitals," 40 craftsmen, less than 1,000 in the Habimah, 1,150 laborers, 1,450 dependents, 1,000 wives and children and 10 orphans. An amount of these probably will be needs of families—wives and children.

Young and his wife had fasted to get 4,000,000 signatures, but the quota was set at 2,020.

A couple threatened to starve to death and leave Pan without an heir.

The figure was set at 4,870—2,020

"in capitals," 40 craftsmen, less than 1,000 in the Habimah, 1,150 laborers, 1,450 dependents, 1,000 wives and children and 10 orphans. An amount of these probably will be needs of families—wives and children.

Young and his wife had fasted to get 4,000,000 signatures, but the quota was set at 2,020.

A couple threatened to starve to death and leave Pan without an heir.

The figure was set at 4,870—2,020

"in capitals," 40 craftsmen, less than 1,000 in the Habimah, 1,150 laborers, 1,450 dependents, 1,000 wives and children and 10 orphans. An amount of these probably will be needs of families—wives and children.

Young and his wife had fasted to get 4,000,000 signatures, but the quota was set at 2,020.

A couple threatened to starve to death and leave Pan without an heir.

The figure was set at 4,870—2,020

"in capitals," 40 craftsmen, less than 1,000 in the Habimah, 1,150 laborers, 1,450 dependents, 1,000 wives and children and 10 orphans. An amount of these probably will be needs of families—wives and children.

Young and his wife had fasted to get 4,000,000 signatures, but the quota was set at 2,020.

A couple threatened to starve to death and leave Pan without an heir.

The figure was set at 4,870—2,020

"in capitals," 40 craftsmen, less than 1,000 in the Habimah, 1,150 laborers, 1,450 dependents, 1,000 wives and children and 10 orphans. An amount of these probably will be needs of families—wives and children.

Young and his wife had fasted to get 4,000,000 signatures, but the quota was set at 2,020.

A couple threatened to starve to death and leave Pan without an heir.

The figure was set at 4,870—2,020

"in capitals," 40 craftsmen, less than 1,000 in the Habimah, 1,150 laborers, 1,450 dependents, 1,000 wives and children and 10 orphans. An amount of these probably will be needs of families—wives and children.

Young and his wife had fasted to get 4,000,000 signatures, but the quota was set at 2,020.

A couple threatened to starve to death and leave Pan without an heir.

The figure was set at 4,870—2,020

"in capitals," 40 craftsmen, less than 1,000 in the Habimah, 1,150 laborers,

The EDITORIAL Page

Alberta's Oldest Newspaper

Edmonton Bulletin

Published every afternoon except Sunday by the Alberta Free Press, Limited, at the Bulletin Building, 9841-9845 Jasper Avenue, Edmonton, Alberta, Canada.

CHARLES E. CAMPBELL,
Owner and Publisher.

IF IT WILL HELP ALBERTA THE
EDMONTON BULLETIN IS FOR IT

TUESDAY, NOVEMBER 1, 1938

Suppose We Listen This Time

With municipal election meetings again on the program, it is in order to note some remarks made in the city council as to the usefulness or the uselessness of holding these gatherings. Two of the aldermen agreed that meetings held in Memorial Hall are mainly "shows," where hecklers prevent anything like a reasoned discussion of civic business; and seemed to agree also that meetings held elsewhere in the town district are different only in degree.

These observations are not flattering as to the civic interest or the good manners of town audiences, but they are in accord with the facts as to what has occurred in past years. May it be hoped that there will be improvement during the coming campaign? Why not listen to the candidates for a change? Maybe they will have something to say that will be worth hearing. They will be asking for the privilege of spending tax-money next year. It would seem to be sound sense to let them tell what they propose to do with it.

The City's Business

Good and evil are blended in the report of the city Commissioners for the three-quarter period of the year which ended September 30th. The statistics are encouraging, but the outlook is marred by one serious adverse fact.

The times have improved and the population of the city is growing. Hence the utilities collectively have done more business than last year and collected more revenue. There has of course been a heavy increase in building permits. Air traffic has grown. Tax collections have been better. General business has shown improvement.

The city's bank overdraft is being cut down and will probably be reduced $200,000 during the year. The improvements at the airport have been completed. While unemployment relief costs are running less than 10 per cent below those of last year, the larger volume of work available has brought a welcome respite to many hundreds of taxpayers who had been struggling along close to the border-line.

Most of these favoring conditions have been well known, and their reaction upon the business of the city was to be assumed. The report is not disappointing in that respect. The showing is what might be expected in the bettered circumstances. It indicates, also, that council has been aware of the need for cautious spending, and has been using the available money to reduce its floating debt.

Paying As We Go

In the aggregate only $82,000 of new city debt has been created this year; to pay for airport improvements, sewers, the 142nd Street bridge, and the city's share of local improvements. The rest of the expenditure, current and capital, has been out of income.

In this connection it is interesting to note in detail that the paving of 104th Avenue and 109th Street, the improvements at the stadium and the exhibition grounds, the culling of gravelled roads, have involved no borrowing save for the proportion of the costs chargeable against local property-owners. The city's share of the paving program, and the cost of these other improvements, has been met from current revenue.

That is something the taxpayers would do well to get and keep firmly in mind. It disproves absolutely the assumption that street and other improvements can only be financed by issuing bonds and paying interest over long terms, the interest usually amounting to as much or more than the cost of the improvements.

The city has this year been carrying on this kind of work, on a fairly large scale, and doing it on a cash basis.

There is no reason why this policy cannot be continued. The importance of continuing it is that the taxpayers can get twice or more the amount of improvements by paying for these as they are made. Had Edmonton pursued this policy in past years, instead of heaping every possible charge upon "posterty," it would now have twice the improvements and half the debt.

The "Source of Worry"

The "bad spot" in the civic picture is the continuing fall in the assessment. This is "still a source of worry," for it continues to decrease," say the Commissioners. In the last five years there has been a drop of $12,000,000 net. Despite that during the last seventeen years about four and a quarter millions of confiscated property has been sold and returned to the tax-roll. Edmonton's per capita assessment is now lower than that of any other city in Canada. Which means that home-owning in Edmonton has become impossible to many and unattractive to others, because of high taxation. More property is being forfeited than is being redeemed.

The dead-locking fact is that the assessment cannot be arbitrarily raised to any advantage. The tax-rate forbids. This is now set at 54 mills as a minimum charge against the present assessment total. If the assessment were raised and the tax-rate lowered, the result to the taxpayer would be exactly the same in dollars and cents. For the amount that must be raised for debt payments, plus any sum sufficient for current expenditures, requires the present amount of tax-money, as a minimum. There is the added consideration that property cannot be sold for its present assessed value, and any increase in the assessed value would bring lively protests from the owners.

Obviously, the only hope of checking the decline in the assessment total and starting it on the up grade is in the building of more homes, whether for sale or rent, either by private parties unaided or under a civic housing scheme. There is no market for vacant lots on the part of people who cannot put houses on them.

Since building houses and private investors do not seem to be willing to buy houses on chance of selling or renting them in any number large enough to help the situation, the prospect of stopping the downward drift of the assessment total appears to lie in a housing scheme launched by the city under the Dominion enabling and assisting legislation.

Council decided nothing in that direction could be done this year. But it is asking the burgesses to say by their votes on election day if they want such a scheme started next year. An affirmative vote, and action by next year's council seems to be the only chance for increasing the number of property-owning taxpayers, starting the assessment upward and the tax-rate downward. And until the rate moves downward, the assessment taken into account, there is not much hope that the sale value of property will go back to a proper basis.

Property values cannot rise against a falling assessment, when the assessment is being forced down by a 54-mill—or more—tax-rate.

The Government of Mexico having广播 the wells of foreign companies there, Mussolini is to buy the oil for his warships, tanks and airplanes. Looters must stand together if the business is to be made profitable.

Fifty Years Ago

From the Files of The Edmonton Bulletin

The evidence of Professor Dawson about the Peace River country before the Senate committee on the Yukon and Northwest Territories. He shows that the climatic conditions in that country make it potentially one of the best agricultural areas in Canada. He takes issue sharply with those who say the district is virtually worthless and says that in future years it may prove a treasure-house for the dominion.

Forty Years Ago
The past summer saw 15 cars of hogs shipped to the Kootenay.

Dr. E. W. Thompson, has been appointed inspector of steam boilers.

A report is current that an assay of ore taken from Great Slave Lake shows high percentages of gold, silver and copper.

Thirty Years Ago
Berlin: There is a storm of public protest over the published interview in England over the Boer War. It is felt that the Kaiser made it hard for amicable relations to be established with the Boers, and as far as he talks as if he has a right to interfere in British affairs.

Outlaws: A discussion of women's suffrage was ruled out of order at the annual convention of the National Council of Women, on the ground that the whole debate could serve no useful purpose.

Twenty Years Ago
Washington: Official circles here say that their information from Germany indicates that the mass leaders of the country are doing most of the stirring and trouble-making in the war-party, is instigating on some peaceful end to the struggle. But the comment here is that no settlement is possible save in accordance with the repeatedly defined war aims of the Allies.

Ten Years Ago
Philadelphia: A grand jury investigating rum running, racketeering, gang murders and police corruption, declared nearly one-third of this city's police officers are "unfit to hold any municipal office."

Ottawa: The Armistice ceremonial committee has issued a bilingual order of service which has been widely approved for commemorative use. It includes Catholic and Jewish churches on Armistice Day.

A record catch of more than one and a half million pounds of trout was taken from Lesser Slave Lake by commercial fishermen during last season.

The Passing Show

By J. S. COPWER

When two people tell opposite versions of the same story, it isn't easy to know which one, if either, is true. Before Civil Judge Garrison Miller, of the Superior Court, sat the other day, Raymond Sheehan, a truck driver, sued the Milwaukee Street Railway and a motorman for $200 damages for an injured hand. Sheehan's story was that when he was hit by the front vestibule, the motorman made a swat at a fly, breaking the front window. A piece of the flying glass said Sheehan, entered his thumb.

Then the motorman took the stand. He agreed that Sheehan was hit, but he broke the window. Paralleling Sheehan's story, the motorman said his thumb was cut by the flying glass.

What would you do in a case like that? Judge Garrison called both men to write their names on a sheet of paper. He noted that both men were right-handed. Then he looked at their thumbs. Sheehan's cut was on his right thumb; the motorman's on his left.

Come to think of it, no right-handed man ever swats a fly with his right. Judge Garrison's racial inheritance must have evolved his Solomon-like judgment.

Frank admission of the success of the British system of submarine warfare in 1917, after heavy losses to German submarines, is made in the German Admiralty's monthly magazine. This official mouthpiece also bears witness to the development of the depth charge by the British Navy. "Never before," says the magazine, "has there been a more effective weapon."

DEPTH CHARGES AND PARAVANE
April 1917, they alone had destroyed no fewer than fifty-five German submarines."

The testimony is also given to the effectiveness of anti-submarine warfare by the use of paravane, which made ships practically immune from mines. The paravane is a kite-shaped apparatus with a torpedo-like body. Towed by a wire, it was kept from the sides of the ship by two arms, which could be raised or lowered to a depth through a hydraulically controlled rudder. The head was armed with a cutter for severing the moorings of mines, or with a striking device for exploding a depth charge when used against a mine.

At the end of the war, 3,000 merchant vessels were equipped with this device. No ship which had a paravane at war was ever lost through mine explosions. The off-set to German plans to utterly destroy Allied shipping was the use of the German submarine as a mine-layer. The German submarines were constructed as mine-layers and the German naval authorities remained in complete ignorance of the invention of the paravane until three months before the end of the war. They continued to devote great efforts to a mine-laying campaign that the paravane had rendered innocuous.

People on this continent, deceived by propaganda reports from Spain that the Loyalists were warring on religion, were puzzled by a wireless despatch from Harvard in the New York Times of Oct. 17. It described the arrival of Captain Villa, Captain Vicente de Echazu, Sagardoy, killed in action on the Ebro

KILLING FRENDS FRONT
front. It told of "a priest in full vestments bearing a cross" who had at the head of the procession and added Wednesday a Mass will be said for him in the Basque Chapel."

In the procession were Julio Alvarez, Del Val, Francisco Pino, Mariano and General Riquelme of the Loyalist forces. The funeral procession and services, says the despatch, "were prominently advertised in this morning's Hoja Oficial—the only paper published on the front."

The priest passed along two of the chief theatres of the city on the cross before noon, while parades looked on silently and respectfully."

The New York Times is the paper which carries

described by Howard E. Barnes, of the American Newspaper Guild, as "France's press agent." Many of the priest-baiting and other stories sent by Carney to America have been proven, without foundation and exposed as French propaganda.

With the withdrawal of Mussolini's "token" force, Carney is now suggesting that a settlement of the Spanish Civil War can be made with France, if the Loyalists will disavow their present stand and accept a truce from Spain. He tended to make American readers believe the Spanish rebellion is a holy war, is a hopeful sign.

In the procession were Julio Alvarez, Del Val, Francisco Pino, Mariano and General Riquelme of the Loyalist forces. The funeral

procession and services, says the despatch, "were prominently advertised in this morning's Hoja Oficial—the only paper published on the front."

The priest passed along two of the chief theatres of the city on the cross before noon, while parades looked on silently and respectfully."

The New York Times is the paper which carries

described by Howard E. Barnes, of the American Newspaper Guild, as "France's press agent." Many of the priest-baiting and other stories sent by Carney to America have been proven, without foundation and exposed as French propaganda.

With the withdrawal of Mussolini's "token" force, Carney is now suggesting that a settlement of the Spanish Civil War can be made with France, if the Loyalists will disavow their present stand and accept a truce from Spain. He tended to make American readers believe the Spanish rebellion is a holy war, is a hopeful sign.

In the procession were Julio Alvarez, Del Val, Francisco Pino, Mariano and General Riquelme of the Loyalist forces. The funeral

procession and services, says the despatch, "were prominently advertised in this morning's Hoja Oficial—the only paper published on the front."

The priest passed along two of the chief theatres of the city on the cross before noon, while parades looked on silently and respectfully."

The New York Times is the paper which carries

described by Howard E. Barnes, of the American Newspaper Guild, as "France's press agent." Many of the priest-baiting and other stories sent by Carney to America have been proven, without foundation and exposed as French propaganda.

With the withdrawal of Mussolini's "token" force, Carney is now suggesting that a settlement of the Spanish Civil War can be made with France, if the Loyalists will disavow their present stand and accept a truce from Spain. He tended to make American readers believe the Spanish rebellion is a holy war, is a hopeful sign.

In the procession were Julio Alvarez, Del Val, Francisco Pino, Mariano and General Riquelme of the Loyalist forces. The funeral

procession and services, says the despatch, "were prominently advertised in this morning's Hoja Oficial—the only paper published on the front."

The priest passed along two of the chief theatres of the city on the cross before noon, while parades looked on silently and respectfully."

The New York Times is the paper which carries

described by Howard E. Barnes, of the American Newspaper Guild, as "France's press agent." Many of the priest-baiting and other stories sent by Carney to America have been proven, without foundation and exposed as French propaganda.

With the withdrawal of Mussolini's "token" force, Carney is now suggesting that a settlement of the Spanish Civil War can be made with France, if the Loyalists will disavow their present stand and accept a truce from Spain. He tended to make American readers believe the Spanish rebellion is a holy war, is a hopeful sign.

In the procession were Julio Alvarez, Del Val, Francisco Pino, Mariano and General Riquelme of the Loyalist forces. The funeral

procession and services, says the despatch, "were prominently advertised in this morning's Hoja Oficial—the only paper published on the front."

The priest passed along two of the chief theatres of the city on the cross before noon, while parades looked on silently and respectfully."

The New York Times is the paper which carries

described by Howard E. Barnes, of the American Newspaper Guild, as "France's press agent." Many of the priest-baiting and other stories sent by Carney to America have been proven, without foundation and exposed as French propaganda.

With the withdrawal of Mussolini's "token" force, Carney is now suggesting that a settlement of the Spanish Civil War can be made with France, if the Loyalists will disavow their present stand and accept a truce from Spain. He tended to make American readers believe the Spanish rebellion is a holy war, is a hopeful sign.

In the procession were Julio Alvarez, Del Val, Francisco Pino, Mariano and General Riquelme of the Loyalist forces. The funeral

procession and services, says the despatch, "were prominently advertised in this morning's Hoja Oficial—the only paper published on the front."

The priest passed along two of the chief theatres of the city on the cross before noon, while parades looked on silently and respectfully."

The New York Times is the paper which carries

described by Howard E. Barnes, of the American Newspaper Guild, as "France's press agent." Many of the priest-baiting and other stories sent by Carney to America have been proven, without foundation and exposed as French propaganda.

With the withdrawal of Mussolini's "token" force, Carney is now suggesting that a settlement of the Spanish Civil War can be made with France, if the Loyalists will disavow their present stand and accept a truce from Spain. He tended to make American readers believe the Spanish rebellion is a holy war, is a hopeful sign.

In the procession were Julio Alvarez, Del Val, Francisco Pino, Mariano and General Riquelme of the Loyalist forces. The funeral

procession and services, says the despatch, "were prominently advertised in this morning's Hoja Oficial—the only paper published on the front."

The priest passed along two of the chief theatres of the city on the cross before noon, while parades looked on silently and respectfully."

The New York Times is the paper which carries

described by Howard E. Barnes, of the American Newspaper Guild, as "France's press agent." Many of the priest-baiting and other stories sent by Carney to America have been proven, without foundation and exposed as French propaganda.

With the withdrawal of Mussolini's "token" force, Carney is now suggesting that a settlement of the Spanish Civil War can be made with France, if the Loyalists will disavow their present stand and accept a truce from Spain. He tended to make American readers believe the Spanish rebellion is a holy war, is a hopeful sign.

In the procession were Julio Alvarez, Del Val, Francisco Pino, Mariano and General Riquelme of the Loyalist forces. The funeral

procession and services, says the despatch, "were prominently advertised in this morning's Hoja Oficial—the only paper published on the front."

The priest passed along two of the chief theatres of the city on the cross before noon, while parades looked on silently and respectfully."

The New York Times is the paper which carries

described by Howard E. Barnes, of the American Newspaper Guild, as "France's press agent." Many of the priest-baiting and other stories sent by Carney to America have been proven, without foundation and exposed as French propaganda.

With the withdrawal of Mussolini's "token" force, Carney is now suggesting that a settlement of the Spanish Civil War can be made with France, if the Loyalists will disavow their present stand and accept a truce from Spain. He tended to make American readers believe the Spanish rebellion is a holy war, is a hopeful sign.

In the procession were Julio Alvarez, Del Val, Francisco Pino, Mariano and General Riquelme of the Loyalist forces. The funeral

procession and services, says the despatch, "were prominently advertised in this morning's Hoja Oficial—the only paper published on the front."

The priest passed along two of the chief theatres of the city on the cross before noon, while parades looked on silently and respectfully."

The New York Times is the paper which carries

described by Howard E. Barnes, of the American Newspaper Guild, as "France's press agent." Many of the priest-baiting and other stories sent by Carney to America have been proven, without foundation and exposed as French propaganda.

With the withdrawal of Mussolini's "token" force, Carney is now suggesting that a settlement of the Spanish Civil War can be made with France, if the Loyalists will disavow their present stand and accept a truce from Spain. He tended to make American readers believe the Spanish rebellion is a holy war, is a hopeful sign.

In the procession were Julio Alvarez, Del Val, Francisco Pino, Mariano and General Riquelme of the Loyalist forces. The funeral

procession and services, says the despatch, "were prominently advertised in this morning's Hoja Oficial—the only paper published on the front."

The priest passed along two of the chief theatres of the city on the cross before noon, while parades looked on silently and respectfully."

The New York Times is the paper which carries

described by Howard E. Barnes, of the American Newspaper Guild, as "France's press agent." Many of the priest-baiting and other stories sent by Carney to America have been proven, without foundation and exposed as French propaganda.

With the withdrawal of Mussolini's "token" force, Carney is now suggesting that a settlement of the Spanish Civil War can be made with France, if the Loyalists will disavow their present stand and accept a truce from Spain. He tended to make American readers believe the Spanish rebellion is a holy war, is a hopeful sign.

In the procession were Julio Alvarez, Del Val, Francisco Pino, Mariano and General Riquelme of the Loyalist forces. The funeral

procession and services, says the despatch, "were prominently advertised in this morning's Hoja Oficial—the only paper published on the front."

The priest passed along two of the chief theatres of the city on the cross before noon, while parades looked on silently and respectfully."

The New York Times is the paper which carries

described by Howard E. Barnes, of the American Newspaper Guild, as "France's press agent." Many of the priest-baiting and other stories sent by Carney to America have been proven, without foundation and exposed as French propaganda.

With the withdrawal of Mussolini's "token" force, Carney is now suggesting that a settlement of the Spanish Civil War can be made with France, if the Loyalists will disavow their present stand and accept a truce from Spain. He tended to make American readers believe the Spanish rebellion is a holy war, is a hopeful sign.

In the procession were Julio Alvarez, Del Val, Francisco Pino, Mariano and General Riquelme of the Loyalist forces. The funeral

procession and services, says the despatch, "were prominently advertised in this morning's Hoja Oficial—the only paper published on the front."

The priest passed along two of the chief theatres of the city on the cross before noon, while parades looked on silently and respectfully."

The New York Times is the paper which carries

described by Howard E. Barnes, of the American Newspaper Guild, as "France's press agent." Many of the priest-baiting and other stories sent by Carney to America have been proven, without foundation and exposed as French propaganda.

With the withdrawal of Mussolini's "token" force, Carney is now suggesting that a settlement of the Spanish Civil War can be made with France, if the Loyalists will disavow their present stand and accept a truce from Spain. He tended to make American readers believe the Spanish rebellion is a holy war, is a hopeful sign.

In the procession were Julio Alvarez, Del Val, Francisco Pino, Mariano and General Riquelme of the Loyalist forces. The funeral

procession and services, says the despatch, "were prominently advertised in this morning's Hoja Oficial—the only paper published on the front."

The priest passed along two of the chief theatres of the city on the cross before noon, while parades looked on silently and respectfully."

The New York Times is the paper which carries

described by Howard E. Barnes, of the American Newspaper Guild, as "France's press agent." Many of the priest-baiting and other stories sent by Carney to America have been proven, without foundation and exposed as French propaganda.

With the withdrawal of Mussolini's "token" force, Carney is now suggesting that a settlement of the Spanish Civil War can be made with France, if the Loyalists will disavow their present stand and accept a truce from Spain. He tended to make American readers believe the Spanish rebellion is a holy war, is a hopeful sign.

In the procession were Julio Alvarez, Del Val, Francisco Pino, Mariano and General Riquelme of the Loyalist forces. The funeral

procession and services, says the despatch, "were prominently advertised in this morning's Hoja Oficial—the only paper published on the front."

The priest passed along two of the chief theatres of the city on the cross before noon, while parades looked on silently and respectfully."

The New York Times is the paper which carries

described by Howard E. Barnes, of the American Newspaper Guild, as "France's press agent." Many of the priest-baiting and other stories sent by Carney to America have been proven, without foundation and exposed as French propaganda.

With the withdrawal of Mussolini's "token" force, Carney is now suggesting that a settlement of the Spanish Civil War can be made with France, if the Loyalists will disavow their present stand and accept a truce from Spain. He tended to make American readers believe the Spanish rebellion is a holy war, is a hopeful sign.

In the procession were Julio Alvarez, Del Val, Francisco Pino, Mariano and General Riquelme of the Loyalist forces. The funeral

procession and services, says the despatch, "were prominently advertised in this morning's Hoja Oficial—the only paper published on the front."

The priest passed along two of the chief theatres of the city on the cross before noon, while parades looked on silently and respectfully."

The New York Times is the paper which carries

described by Howard E. Barnes, of the American Newspaper Guild, as "France's press agent." Many of the priest-baiting and other stories sent by Carney to America have been proven, without foundation and exposed as French propaganda.

With the withdrawal of Mussolini's "token" force, Carney is now suggesting that a settlement of the Spanish Civil War can be made with France, if the Loyalists will disavow their present stand and accept a truce from Spain. He tended to make American readers believe the Spanish rebellion is a holy war, is a hopeful sign.

In the procession were Julio Alvarez, Del Val, Francisco Pino, Mariano and General Riquelme of the Loyalist forces. The funeral

procession and services, says the despatch, "were prominently advertised in this morning's Hoja Oficial—the only paper published on the front."

The priest passed along two of the chief theatres of the city on the cross before noon, while parades looked on silently and respectfully."

The New York Times is the paper which carries

described by Howard E. Barnes, of the American Newspaper Guild, as "France's press agent." Many of the priest-baiting and other stories sent by Carney to America have been proven, without foundation and exposed as French propaganda.

With the withdrawal of Mussolini's "token" force, Carney is now suggesting that a settlement of the Spanish Civil War can be made with France, if the Loyalists will disavow their present stand and accept a truce from Spain. He tended to make American readers believe the Spanish rebellion is a holy war, is a hopeful sign.

In the procession were Julio Alvarez, Del Val, Francisco Pino, Mariano and General Riquelme of the Loyalist forces. The funeral

procession and services, says the despatch, "were prominently advertised in this morning's Hoja Oficial—the only paper published on the front."

The priest passed along two of the chief theatres of the city on the cross before noon, while parades looked on silently and respectfully."

The New York Times is the paper which carries

described by Howard E. Barnes, of the American Newspaper Guild, as "France's press agent." Many of the priest-baiting and other stories sent by Carney to America have been proven, without foundation and exposed as French propaganda.

With the withdrawal of Mussolini's "token" force, Carney is now suggesting that a settlement of the Spanish Civil War can be made with France, if the Loyalists will disavow their present stand and accept a truce from Spain. He tended to make American readers believe the Spanish rebellion is a holy war, is a hopeful sign.

In the procession were Julio Alvarez, Del Val, Francisco Pino, Mariano and General Riquelme of the Loyalist forces. The funeral

procession and services, says the despatch, "were prominently advertised in this morning's Hoja Oficial—the only paper published on the front."

The priest passed along two of the chief theatres of the city on the cross before noon, while parades looked on silently and respectfully."

The New York Times is the paper which carries

described by Howard E. Barnes, of the American Newspaper Guild, as "France's press agent." Many of the priest-baiting and other stories sent by Carney to America have been proven, without foundation and exposed as French propaganda.

With the withdrawal of Mussolini's "token" force, Carney is now suggesting that a settlement of the Spanish Civil War can be made with France, if the Loyalists will disavow their present stand and accept a truce from Spain. He tended to make American readers believe the Spanish rebellion is a holy war, is a hopeful sign.

Home Science Group Hears Travelogues

Vivid portrayal of their summer experiences while touring the continent were given by Mrs. M. Ruth Eager and Miss Adele Wright at an interesting meeting of the Edmonton Home Economics Association on Monday evening.

Host in Athabasca hall on the University campus, the meeting was the initial one for the season, and was presided over by Miss Adele Leest, president of the Association.

Miss Wright described conditions in Bunkin, where she attended an international conference of Business and Professional Women's club, telling also her impressions of the U.S.A., Switzerland, Holland and France.

Supplementing her address with motion pictures, Miss Eager spoke of her vacation in the U.S.A., England, Ireland, France and Switzerland.

Miss Eager was hostess for the evening. It was arranged to hold the next meeting at the home of Miss Adele Leest, 19049 88 Avenue on November 20.

Provincial Personal

SEIDINGK—To say farewell to Miss Adele Murray, prior to her departure for Viking to make her home there, the members of the O. E. S. arranged a happy party at the home of Mrs. Blakney recently. A gift basket was presented to Miss Murray during the evening by Miss F. Adamson.

CARMSOE—Mrs. Craig, who with Dr. Craig and their daughter, is in the U.S.A., was recently home to make her home there, arranged a happy party at the home of Mrs. Blakney recently. A gift basket was presented to Miss Murray during the evening by Miss F. Adamson.

KILMARNOCK—Miss Irene Konzer, whose marriage has been arranged to Dr. R. W. Murray, will be married on November 12, at the church of the Immaculate Conception in Kilmarnock.

MORRIN—Mr. and Mrs. Dan Knoll, who for the past 27 years have made their home in Morrin, have left for the U.S.A. and are about to rejoin with their son, a widow and daughter, Mr. and Mrs. Jenkins in Hardisty.

FORT ST. JOHN—B.C.—Miss R. N. Olds, of London, England, is now in Fort St. John, B.C. for a year.

RED DEER—The eight O. E. S. members from Edmonton, Calgary, Sylvan Lake, Didsbury and other towns, gathered at Red Deer recently when Mrs. M. Harwood, worthy grand matron of Calgary, paid an official visit to Venus Chapter, C.E.S.

Games And Dancing Entertain Guests At Club Affair

Decorations in the Hallowe'en motif and a novel noise-maker made the party at which the Venus Chapter of the C.E.S. and their friends, one of the gayest of Hallowe'en affairs.

The party was held at the Carmel school in South Edmonton.

Games and dancing were included in the program and hours for fun were spent by all.

After the party, the girls went to Mr. Roscoe Bedford, Miss Margaret MacIntyre, Miss H. Ruby Parkinson, Miss M. G. McPherson, Michael MacIntyre, Miss H. Huff, Mr. Lawrence Neumeier and Mr. L. L. Ladd.

Committee in charge of arrangements included Miss Norma Dulsin, Miss Evelyn Purnell, Mr. Roy Johnson, Douglas Bircham, and Mr. M. Dieckow.

Engagements

KAPLER — NICOL
Mr. and Mrs. John Nicol of Edmonton, are engaged to be married in the month of November. The announcement of their daughter, Edith Watt, to Joseph Theodore Kapler of Kinsella. The marriage will take place on November 14.

Minute Make-Ups

B. V. V.

With upturned nostrils increasing in popularity, ears are in the spotlight. So get the habit of slipping a small piece of tissue behind your ears whenever you sneeze your face. And give your ears the most thorough washing you give your face. Keep them smooth and bright.

Party Given by Royal Alexandra Auxiliary Is Gay Manifestation Of The Spirit Of Hallowe'en

ENTERTAINING in true Hallowe'en manner about 200 ladies and gentlemen, who were the guests on Monday evening, were members of the Royal Alexandra Auxiliary, who arranged a delightful Hallowe'en party in the Nurses' Home of the Royal Alexandra hospital.

Receiving guests were Dr. A. F. F. Fawcett, manager of the hospital, and Mrs. Anderson, who was in charge of the hospital, and was the initial one for the season, and was presided over by Miss Adele Leest, president of the Association.

Miss Wright described conditions in Bunkin, where she attended an international conference of Business and Professional Women's club, telling also her impressions of the U.S.A., Switzerland, Holland and France.

Supplementing her address with motion pictures, Miss Eager spoke of her vacation in the U.S.A., England, Ireland, France and Switzerland.

Miss Eager was hostess for the evening. It was arranged to hold the next meeting at the home of Miss Adele Leest, 19049 88 Avenue on November 20.

MISS WINNIFRED SUTTON
who brings considerable experience to her new task as "The Chelaine of the Air," a broad-based family of women throughout central and northern Alberta.

His Lordship Will Open Holy Trinity Church Bazaar

To be opened at three o'clock on Friday afternoon by His Lordship the Right Reverend J. A. B. McDonald, Bishop of Edmonton, the early winter junior-senior choir of which she was a member for 12 years, will be entertained at a farewell party. A gift was presented to her at the affair. Dr. C. E. Cox, rector, presided at an affair arranged in the Legion hall. He was made the recipient of a beautiful leather club bag.

KILMARNOCK—Miss Irene Konzer, whose marriage has been arranged to Dr. R. W. Murray, will be married on November 12, at the church of the Immaculate Conception in Kilmarnock.

MORRIN—Mr. and Mrs. Dan Knoll, who for the past 27 years have made their home in Morrin, have left for the U.S.A. and are about to rejoin with their son, a widow and daughter, Mr. and Mrs. Jenkins in Hardisty.

FORT ST. JOHN—B.C.—Miss R. N. Olds, of London, England, is now in Fort St. John, B.C. for a year.

RED DEER—The eight O. E. S. members from Edmonton, Calgary, Sylvan Lake, Didsbury and other towns, gathered at Red Deer recently when Mrs. M. Harwood, worthy grand matron of Calgary, paid an official visit to Venus Chapter, C.E.S.

Games And Dancing Entertain Guests At Club Affair

Decorations in the Hallowe'en motif and a novel noise-maker made the party at which the Venus Chapter of the C.E.S. and their friends, one of the gayest of Hallowe'en affairs.

The party was held at the Carmel school in South Edmonton.

Games and dancing were included in the program and hours for fun were spent by all.

After the party, the girls went to Mr. Roscoe Bedford, Miss Margaret MacIntyre, Miss H. Ruby Parkinson, Michael MacIntyre, Miss H. Huff, Mr. Lawrence Neumeier and Mr. L. L. Ladd.

Committee in charge of arrangements included Miss Norma Dulsin, Miss Evelyn Purnell, Mr. Roy Johnson, Douglas Bircham, and Mr. M. Dieckow.

Engagements

KAPLER — NICOL
Mr. and Mrs. John Nicol of Edmonton, are engaged to be married in the month of November. The announcement of their daughter, Edith Watt, to Joseph Theodore Kapler of Kinsella. The marriage will take place on November 14.

Minute Make-Ups

B. V. V.

With upturned nostrils increasing in popularity, ears are in the spotlight. So get the habit of slipping a small piece of tissue behind your ears whenever you sneeze your face. And give your ears the most thorough washing you give your face. Keep them smooth and bright.

"Y" Notebook

Miss Marianne Mills' Girls' Work Fund, which she has been raising for the past year, will speak to Inter-Club Council after a short business meeting and supper on Wednesday evening.

Omega Club members will have supper at 6 p.m. Wednesday evening at the club room and will join with Inter-Club Council to hear Miss Mills of Geneva.

Following gym, Leavers' Corp will have a third lecture on anatomy and physiology on Wednesday evening.

Leavers' members and friends are invited to a short business meeting and supper on Wednesday evening.

The ancient Chinese were the first to make porcelain dishes.

Travellers Are Hosts At Banquet And Dance

Entertaining its members and their wives at dinner, following which dancing was arranged, the Edmonton club of the Associated Royal Canadian Legion, held a most delightful evening's entertainment in the Corona hotel on Saturday, November 4. About 200 guests, the affair was the annual banquet and dance of the association.

Mr. H. A. Kerr, president of the Edmonton club, presided at dinner and guests at the head table included, in addition to Mrs. Kerr, Mr. and Mrs. A. McBride of Edmonton, Mr. and Mrs. J. L. Lockhart, Mr. and Mrs. M. O'Connor, Mr. Inniss, Mr. Scott, senior controller of the United Canadian Transport Lines, Mr. F. C. Holden, Mr. and Mrs. J. Thyagaraj, Mr. and Mrs. G. G. Gandy and his companion capable enough arranged entertainment for the affair.

Later, the guests indulged in a jolly evening's singing, the program written for the occasion by Mr. Jordan.

Mr. Alexander Stockwell, president of the Edmonton Legion, and Mr. William Cramb, assistant supervisor.

Later, the guests indulged in a jolly evening's singing, the program written for the occasion by Mr. Jordan.

Mr. Alexander Stockwell, president of the Edmonton Legion, and Mr. William Cramb, assistant supervisor.

Later, the guests indulged in a jolly evening's singing, the program written for the occasion by Mr. Jordan.

Mr. Alexander Stockwell, president of the Edmonton Legion, and Mr. William Cramb, assistant supervisor.

Later, the guests indulged in a jolly evening's singing, the program written for the occasion by Mr. Jordan.

Mr. Alexander Stockwell, president of the Edmonton Legion, and Mr. William Cramb, assistant supervisor.

Later, the guests indulged in a jolly evening's singing, the program written for the occasion by Mr. Jordan.

Mr. Alexander Stockwell, president of the Edmonton Legion, and Mr. William Cramb, assistant supervisor.

Later, the guests indulged in a jolly evening's singing, the program written for the occasion by Mr. Jordan.

Mr. Alexander Stockwell, president of the Edmonton Legion, and Mr. William Cramb, assistant supervisor.

Later, the guests indulged in a jolly evening's singing, the program written for the occasion by Mr. Jordan.

Mr. Alexander Stockwell, president of the Edmonton Legion, and Mr. William Cramb, assistant supervisor.

Later, the guests indulged in a jolly evening's singing, the program written for the occasion by Mr. Jordan.

Mr. Alexander Stockwell, president of the Edmonton Legion, and Mr. William Cramb, assistant supervisor.

Later, the guests indulged in a jolly evening's singing, the program written for the occasion by Mr. Jordan.

Mr. Alexander Stockwell, president of the Edmonton Legion, and Mr. William Cramb, assistant supervisor.

Later, the guests indulged in a jolly evening's singing, the program written for the occasion by Mr. Jordan.

Mr. Alexander Stockwell, president of the Edmonton Legion, and Mr. William Cramb, assistant supervisor.

Later, the guests indulged in a jolly evening's singing, the program written for the occasion by Mr. Jordan.

Mr. Alexander Stockwell, president of the Edmonton Legion, and Mr. William Cramb, assistant supervisor.

Later, the guests indulged in a jolly evening's singing, the program written for the occasion by Mr. Jordan.

Mr. Alexander Stockwell, president of the Edmonton Legion, and Mr. William Cramb, assistant supervisor.

Later, the guests indulged in a jolly evening's singing, the program written for the occasion by Mr. Jordan.

Mr. Alexander Stockwell, president of the Edmonton Legion, and Mr. William Cramb, assistant supervisor.

Later, the guests indulged in a jolly evening's singing, the program written for the occasion by Mr. Jordan.

Mr. Alexander Stockwell, president of the Edmonton Legion, and Mr. William Cramb, assistant supervisor.

Later, the guests indulged in a jolly evening's singing, the program written for the occasion by Mr. Jordan.

Mr. Alexander Stockwell, president of the Edmonton Legion, and Mr. William Cramb, assistant supervisor.

Later, the guests indulged in a jolly evening's singing, the program written for the occasion by Mr. Jordan.

Mr. Alexander Stockwell, president of the Edmonton Legion, and Mr. William Cramb, assistant supervisor.

Later, the guests indulged in a jolly evening's singing, the program written for the occasion by Mr. Jordan.

Mr. Alexander Stockwell, president of the Edmonton Legion, and Mr. William Cramb, assistant supervisor.

Later, the guests indulged in a jolly evening's singing, the program written for the occasion by Mr. Jordan.

Mr. Alexander Stockwell, president of the Edmonton Legion, and Mr. William Cramb, assistant supervisor.

Later, the guests indulged in a jolly evening's singing, the program written for the occasion by Mr. Jordan.

Mr. Alexander Stockwell, president of the Edmonton Legion, and Mr. William Cramb, assistant supervisor.

Later, the guests indulged in a jolly evening's singing, the program written for the occasion by Mr. Jordan.

Mr. Alexander Stockwell, president of the Edmonton Legion, and Mr. William Cramb, assistant supervisor.

Later, the guests indulged in a jolly evening's singing, the program written for the occasion by Mr. Jordan.

Mr. Alexander Stockwell, president of the Edmonton Legion, and Mr. William Cramb, assistant supervisor.

Later, the guests indulged in a jolly evening's singing, the program written for the occasion by Mr. Jordan.

Mr. Alexander Stockwell, president of the Edmonton Legion, and Mr. William Cramb, assistant supervisor.

Later, the guests indulged in a jolly evening's singing, the program written for the occasion by Mr. Jordan.

Mr. Alexander Stockwell, president of the Edmonton Legion, and Mr. William Cramb, assistant supervisor.

Later, the guests indulged in a jolly evening's singing, the program written for the occasion by Mr. Jordan.

Mr. Alexander Stockwell, president of the Edmonton Legion, and Mr. William Cramb, assistant supervisor.

Later, the guests indulged in a jolly evening's singing, the program written for the occasion by Mr. Jordan.

Mr. Alexander Stockwell, president of the Edmonton Legion, and Mr. William Cramb, assistant supervisor.

Later, the guests indulged in a jolly evening's singing, the program written for the occasion by Mr. Jordan.

Mr. Alexander Stockwell, president of the Edmonton Legion, and Mr. William Cramb, assistant supervisor.

Later, the guests indulged in a jolly evening's singing, the program written for the occasion by Mr. Jordan.

Mr. Alexander Stockwell, president of the Edmonton Legion, and Mr. William Cramb, assistant supervisor.

Later, the guests indulged in a jolly evening's singing, the program written for the occasion by Mr. Jordan.

Mr. Alexander Stockwell, president of the Edmonton Legion, and Mr. William Cramb, assistant supervisor.

Later, the guests indulged in a jolly evening's singing, the program written for the occasion by Mr. Jordan.

Mr. Alexander Stockwell, president of the Edmonton Legion, and Mr. William Cramb, assistant supervisor.

Later, the guests indulged in a jolly evening's singing, the program written for the occasion by Mr. Jordan.

Mr. Alexander Stockwell, president of the Edmonton Legion, and Mr. William Cramb, assistant supervisor.

Later, the guests indulged in a jolly evening's singing, the program written for the occasion by Mr. Jordan.

Mr. Alexander Stockwell, president of the Edmonton Legion, and Mr. William Cramb, assistant supervisor.

Later, the guests indulged in a jolly evening's singing, the program written for the occasion by Mr. Jordan.

Mr. Alexander Stockwell, president of the Edmonton Legion, and Mr. William Cramb, assistant supervisor.

Later, the guests indulged in a jolly evening's singing, the program written for the occasion by Mr. Jordan.

Mr. Alexander Stockwell, president of the Edmonton Legion, and Mr. William Cramb, assistant supervisor.

Later, the guests indulged in a jolly evening's singing, the program written for the occasion by Mr. Jordan.

Mr. Alexander Stockwell, president of the Edmonton Legion, and Mr. William Cramb, assistant supervisor.

Later, the guests indulged in a jolly evening's singing, the program written for the occasion by Mr. Jordan.

Mr. Alexander Stockwell, president of the Edmonton Legion, and Mr. William Cramb, assistant supervisor.

Later, the guests indulged in a jolly evening's singing, the program written for the occasion by Mr. Jordan.

Mr. Alexander Stockwell, president of the Edmonton Legion, and Mr. William Cramb, assistant supervisor.

Later, the guests indulged in a jolly evening's singing, the program written for the occasion by Mr. Jordan.

Mr. Alexander Stockwell, president of the Edmonton Legion, and Mr. William Cramb, assistant supervisor.

Later, the guests indulged in a jolly evening's singing, the program written for the occasion by Mr. Jordan.

Mr. Alexander Stockwell, president of the Edmonton Legion, and Mr. William Cramb, assistant supervisor.

Later, the guests indulged in a jolly evening's singing, the program written for the occasion by Mr. Jordan.

Mr. Alexander Stockwell, president of the Edmonton Legion, and Mr. William Cramb, assistant supervisor.

Later, the guests indulged in a jolly evening's singing, the program written for the occasion by Mr. Jordan.

Mr. Alexander Stockwell, president of the Edmonton Legion, and Mr. William Cramb, assistant supervisor.

Later, the guests indulged in a jolly evening's singing, the program written for the occasion by Mr. Jordan.

Mr. Alexander Stockwell, president of the Edmonton Legion, and Mr. William Cramb, assistant supervisor.

Later, the guests indulged in a jolly evening's singing, the program written for the occasion by Mr. Jordan.

Mr. Alexander Stockwell, president of the Edmonton Legion, and Mr. William Cramb, assistant supervisor.

Later, the guests indulged in a jolly evening's singing, the program written for the occasion by Mr. Jordan.

Mr. Alexander Stockwell, president of the Edmonton Legion, and Mr. William Cramb, assistant supervisor.

Later, the guests indulged in a jolly evening's singing, the program written for the occasion by Mr. Jordan.

Mr. Alexander Stockwell, president of the Edmonton Legion, and Mr. William Cramb, assistant supervisor.

Later, the guests indulged in a jolly evening's singing, the program written for the occasion by Mr. Jordan.

Mr. Alexander Stockwell, president of the Edmonton Legion, and Mr. William Cramb, assistant supervisor.

Later, the guests indulged in a jolly evening's singing, the program written for the occasion by Mr. Jordan.

Mr. Alexander Stockwell, president of the Edmonton Legion, and Mr. William Cramb, assistant supervisor.

Later, the guests indulged in a jolly evening's singing, the program written for the occasion by Mr. Jordan.

Mr. Alexander Stockwell, president of the Edmonton Legion, and Mr. William Cramb, assistant supervisor.

Later, the guests indulged in a jolly evening's singing, the program written for the occasion by Mr. Jordan.

Mr. Alexander Stockwell, president of the Edmonton Legion, and Mr. William Cramb, assistant supervisor.

Later, the guests indulged in a jolly evening's singing, the program written for the occasion by Mr. Jordan.

Mr. Alexander Stockwell, president of the Edmonton Legion, and Mr. William Cramb, assistant supervisor.

Later, the guests indulged in a jolly evening's singing, the program written for the occasion by Mr. Jordan.

Mr. Alexander Stockwell, president of the Edmonton Legion, and Mr. William Cramb, assistant supervisor.

Later, the guests indulged in a jolly evening's singing, the program written for the occasion by Mr. Jordan.

Mr. Alexander Stockwell, president of the Edmonton Legion, and Mr. William Cramb, assistant supervisor.

Later, the guests indulged in a jolly evening's singing, the program written for the occasion by Mr. Jordan.

Mr. Alexander Stockwell, president of the Edmonton Legion, and Mr. William Cramb, assistant supervisor.

Later, the guests indulged in a jolly evening's singing, the program written for the occasion by Mr. Jordan.

Mr. Alexander Stockwell, president of the Edmonton Legion, and Mr. William Cramb, assistant supervisor.

Later, the guests indulged in a jolly evening's singing, the program written for the occasion by Mr. Jordan.

Mr. Alexander Stockwell, president of the Edmonton Legion, and Mr. William Cramb, assistant supervisor.

Later, the guests indulged in a jolly evening's singing, the program written for the occasion by Mr. Jordan.

Mr. Alexander Stockwell, president of the Edmonton Legion, and Mr. William Cramb, assistant supervisor.

Later, the guests indulged in a jolly evening's singing, the program written for the occasion by Mr. Jordan.

Mr. Alexander Stockwell, president of the Edmonton Legion, and Mr. William Cramb, assistant supervisor.

Later, the guests indulged in a jolly evening's singing, the program written for the occasion by Mr. Jordan.

Mr. Alexander Stockwell, president of the Edmonton Legion, and Mr. William Cramb, assistant supervisor.

Later, the guests indulged in a jolly evening's singing, the program written for the occasion by Mr. Jordan.

Mr. Alexander Stockwell, president of the Edmonton Legion, and Mr. William Cramb, assistant supervisor.

Later, the guests indulged in a jolly evening's singing, the program written for the occasion by Mr. Jordan.

Mr. Alexander Stockwell, president of the Edmonton Legion, and Mr. William Cramb, assistant supervisor.

Later, the guests indulged in a jolly evening's singing, the program written for the occasion by Mr. Jordan.

Mr. Alexander Stockwell, president of the Edmonton Legion, and Mr. William Cramb, assistant supervisor.

Later, the guests indulged in a jolly evening's singing, the program written for the occasion by Mr. Jordan.

Mr. Alexander Stockwell, president of the Edmonton Legion, and Mr. William Cramb, assistant supervisor.

Later, the guests indulged in a jolly evening's singing, the program written for the occasion by Mr. Jordan.

Mr. Alexander Stockwell, president of the Edmonton Legion, and Mr. William Cramb, assistant supervisor.

Later, the guests indulged in a jolly evening's singing, the program written for the occasion by Mr. Jordan.

Mr. Alexander Stockwell, president of the Edmonton Legion, and Mr. William Cramb, assistant supervisor.

Later, the guests indulged in a jolly evening's singing, the program written for the occasion by Mr. Jordan.

Mr. Alexander Stockwell, president of the Edmonton Legion, and Mr. William Cramb, assistant supervisor.

Later, the guests indulged in a jolly evening's singing, the program written for the occasion by Mr. Jordan.

Mr. Alexander Stockwell, president of the Edmonton Legion, and Mr. William Cramb, assistant supervisor.

Later, the guests indulged in a jolly evening's singing, the program written for the occasion by Mr. Jordan.

Mr. Alexander Stockwell, president of the Edmonton Legion, and Mr. William Cramb, assistant supervisor.

Later, the guests indulged in a jolly evening's singing, the program written for the occasion by Mr. Jordan.

Mr. Alexander Stockwell, president of the Edmonton Legion, and Mr. William Cramb, assistant supervisor.

Later, the guests indulged in a jolly evening's singing, the program written for the occasion by Mr. Jordan.

Mr. Alexander Stockwell, president of the Edmonton Legion, and Mr. William Cramb, assistant supervisor.

